The new look of Trackwrestling

WISCONSIN RAPIDS, Wisconsin – The sport of wrestling might not have gotten any easier over the years but managing and viewing it has. Trackwrestling provides wrestling software and services which you may have seen at various wrestling events, including all levels of the NCAA National Championships this past year. Trackwrestling has recently seen some new updates to their website that focuses on providing the most relevant content. Their new homepage gives you easy access to a variety of wrestling resources. There are many new features that allow you to quickly get to tournaments, seasons, and profiles.

One of the biggest installments is the myTRACK feature that sets you up with an account on Trackwrestling. With a free myTRACK account, you can start getting a personalized browsing experience based on where you are from and your recent interests. The tournaments list is filtered to bring you the most relevant results based on the state you are from. The new “Recent” feature notes the tournaments, seasons, and profiles that you have recently viewed and lets you easily get back to them; with an option to lock in your favorites so that they are always there.

Trackwrestling is now mobile-friendly and can conveniently be viewed from any mobile device that supports web browsing. You can easily browse and manage wrestlers, teams, and wrestling events all from your phone or tablet.

For those who are interested in running Trackwrestling at their next event or want to be trained in the software, there are now online courses available. Trackwrestling University is a new addition that teaches the necessary skills to run various wrestling events.
