

It's time to play a little Golf – Here is your chance

March 26, 2007

RE: 2007 AAU Yakima Valley Junior Golf Series, High School Seniors to beginners.

Fellow Junior Golfers,

This is your invitation to the 2007 AAU Yakima Valley Junior Golf Series. If you take advantage of this and other Junior Golf opportunities, you will become the golfer you want to be. Parents don't procrastinate, get your child started today. This is one of the few Junior events that your child can play in 2007.

The Amateur Athletic Union, the oldest Athletic Union in the United States, is offering you a chance to continue your golf game. Its past spokesperson Jack Nicklaus knows the value of playing golf year round. Many of you played in the rain, but playing in this AAU Yakima Valley Golf Series will give your child a better chance to be a better golfer. The Black Rock Golf Course has been selected as the home course for this event. Find out information on the course by going to

Play is at different yardages based on age of the player.

Outstanding awards will be given to golfers in each division.

Note: Deadline date for entry and entry fees will be five days before date of event.

All participants will have the right to participate in the AAU Inland Empire Championships.

If you have any questions, feel free to contact the AAU Golf Chairman – Professional Jeff Bender at 509 -837-5340 or check the web site at www.ieaaau.org for addition information and updates. You can also email Mr. Bender at lygolf@bentonrea.com. When calling the office, we can provide you any information that is needed.

We will see you at the 2007 AAU Yakima Valley Golf Series!

Sincerely,

Jeff Bender, AAU Golf Chairman

Amateur Athletic Union

This is more than a Junior Event.

It is a chance to play and learn the game of golf at the best golf course in the Lower Yakima Valley.
