

all about Hampton Roads

Hampton Roads is a region of 1.6 million people nestled along the Mid-Atlantic Coast in Southeastern Virginia. The region stretches from Virginia Beach to Williamsburg and west to Suffolk and includes the cities of Chesapeake, Hampton, Newport News, Norfolk and Portsmouth.

Within about a day's drive for two-thirds of the US population, Hampton Roads welcomes more than 4 million visitors annually to its many beaches, attractions, outdoor festivals and sporting events.

The area is served by air through the newly expanded Norfolk International Airport, the Newport News/Williamsburg International Airport and by car and motor coach through Interstate 64 by way of Interstate 95.
